The habit of reading is one of the greatest resources of mankind; we enjoy reading books that belong to us much more than if they are borrowed. A borrowed book is a (1) _____ in the house; it must be treated with punctiliousness, with a (2) _____ considerate formality. You must see that it sustains no (3) _____; it must not suffer while under your roof. You cannot leave it carelessly, you cannot make it, you cannot turn down the (4) _____, you cannot use it familiarly. And then, someday, (5) _____ this is seldom done, you really ought to return it.

But your own books belong to you; you treat them with that affectionate (6) _____ that annihilates formality. Books are for use, not for show; you should own no book that you are afraid to (7) _____ up, or afraid to place on the table, wide open and face down. A good reason for marking favorite pages in books is that this (8) _____ enables you to remember more easily the significant sayings, to refer to them quickly, and then in late years, it is like visiting a forest (9) _____ you once blazed a trail. You have the pleasure of going over the old ground, and recalling both the intellectual scenery and your own (10) _____ self.

60、 1. It is generally believed that the only child in the family tends to be spoiled as too much love and care are lavished on him. Do you agree or disagree? And why?

References:

I don't agree with it, because I think the only child in a family can prove useful and valuable. As long as he grows up in a healthy, democratic and harmonious family, he can be independent and trustworthy. Remember the kids in Sichuan earthquake in 2008. Quite a lot of them are the only child at home, but they are very strong and helpful.

61、 2. Now Chinese government has the new policy of encouraging each family to give birth to a second child. Do you agree or disagree? And why?

References:

The new policy is implemented because China now is facing a lot of social problems, such as aging population and the shortage of youner generation. Moreover, people tend to think the only child in each family is selfish, self-centred, and lacking in the ability to communicate and negotiate with others. The new policy which encourage each family to have a second child can ease the pressure of shortage of workforce caused by aging population.
